2. Your rights of access to medical reports

Before we can apply for a medical report from a doctor who has cared for you, we need you to give your consent by signing in section 4.

Please read the information below carefully as it explains the rights of UK residents under the Access to Medical Reports 1988 and the Access to Personal Files and Medical Reports (N.I.) Order 1991. You do not have to give your consent but, if you do, you should state in section 3 whether you wish to see the report before it is sent to our Chief Medical Officer.

If you wish to see the report, we will tell the doctor that you wish to see it before it is sent to us. You must contact the doctor to arrange to see the report. The sooner you act, the sooner we can consider your application. If you say you do not wish to see the report, we do not have to tell you if we apply for one. However, if you change your mind before such a report is sent to us, you should contact the doctor immediately, saying you wish to see it. You will have 21 days from then to see the report.

If you see a report before we do, the doctor cannot send it to us without your consent. You can write to the doctor, asking him/her to amend any part of the report which you consider to be incorrect or misleading. You can also ask the doctor to attach a statement of your views on any part of the report where you and the doctor do not agree and the doctor is not willing to alter the report.

Whatever you decide, you can still ask the doctor for a copy up to six months after it is completed. If you ask the doctor for a copy of the report, he/she can charge you a reasonable fee to cover costs.

Doctors do not always have to let you see any part of a report for the following reasons:

- if the doctor thinks it would be likely to cause serious harm to your physical or mental health or that of others
- if the report would indicate the doctor's intentions towards you
- if disclosure would be likely to reveal information about another person
- if disclosure might reveal the identity of another person who has supplied information about you, unless that person has consented or the information comes from a health professional involved in caring for you.

In such cases, the doctor must tell you, and you will only be able to see any remaining part of the report. If the whole report is affected, the doctor cannot send it to us without your consent.

3. Access to reports

Under the Access to Medical Reports Act 1988 and the Access to Personal Files and Medical Reports (N.I.) Order 1991, UK residents have certain rights regarding any medical report which we may ask a doctor to complete. Please read the details of these rights in section 2 before completing this part.

Note: If you indicate that you wish to see any medical report before it is sent to us, this may delay this application. You may prefer not to see any report at this stage and to take advantage of the right to ask your doctor for a copy up to six months after it is completed.

Each applicant must tick one box only; if neither is ticked, we will assume that the applicant does not wish to see the report.

First applicant Joint applicant (if applicable)

I wish to see the report before it is sent to Quilter Life & Pensions Limited

I do not wish to see the report before it is sent to Quilter Life & Pensions Limited

4. Declaration

This declaration is made by each applicant.

I have been informed of my statutory rights under the Access to Medical Reports Act 1988 and the Access to Personal Files and Medical Reports (N.I.) Order 1991 (see sections 2 and 3). In connection with the contract applied for, I consent to Quilter Life & Pensions Limited obtaining a medical report from any medical practitioner who has attended me in England, Scotland, Wales and Northern Ireland.

I agree that a copy of this consent will have the validity of the original.
